PRICE TWO CENTS

FIFTEEN ARE ELECTED AT MASS MEETING

Thirty-Six Are Placed In Nomination By Crowd
Present

WILL NAME FIVE

The Five Chosen by the Fifteen Will Run For Council in Election to be Held June 13.

Fifteen persons were selected at a mass meeting last night, held in the auditorium of the H. K. Home, out of 86 nominated, to select five who will enter the race for City Council in the election to be held June 13, when the council-manager plan form of city government will have its start. The council so elected will take office September 1. The nominees may select five from among themselves or else they may select others. An announcement of the nominees will, it is stated, be made at a mass meeting which probably will be held within the next two weeks.

It was 9:10 o'clock when the work of collecting the ballots was finished, and it was about 11:10 o'clock when the officials in charge completed their task and announced to those who remained the result. The hall was packed to overflowing, and hundreds were unable to gain admission. Long before 8 o'clock the hall was comfortably filled and late comers were unable to gain admission. Attending the meeting were many women of the city.

The fifteen persons nominated and their vote follows: W. Albert Smoot, 304; Robert S. Jones, 303; Arthur Bryant, 299; J. Randall Caton, 258; Frank T. King, 256; George E. Warfield, 244; Miss Lucy Graves, 231; Charles E. Swan, 231; A. D. Brockett, 216; Carroll Pierce, 188; L. Ruben, 184; Arthur Herbert, 177; C. E. Darr, 161; Percy E. Clift, 153; R. E. Knight, 150.

Others who were nominated and their vote follows: Mrs. Morris L. Horner, 147; E. F. Tice, 141; Leo P. Harlow, 140; R. B. Burr, 130; John H. Trimyer, 120; Miss Mamie Lindsey, 117; James Bayne, 112; Richard Gibson, 110; C. W. Wattle, 108; D. J. Howell, 108; Dr. C. E. Outcalt, 95; John M. Reed, 91; Albert Bryan, 82; William Desmond, 71; R. W. Howard, 49; J. Fred Birrell, 40; Silas Devers, 32; Thomas L. Carter, 18; Jerome Kaufmann, 6. There were thirteen scattering votes.

The meeting was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock by J. E. W. Timberman, chairman, who explained its purpose, and he called upon Rev. Dr. John D. Allison, who invoked Divine blessing. Messrs. Timberman and J. Randall Caton were then placed in nomination for chairman and C. Aubrey Callahan for secretary. The Mr. Caton withdrew from the race and an organization was effected with the election of Mr. Timberman as permanent chairman and Mr. Callahan as permanent secretary.

A short speech was made by J. Fred (Continued on Page Three)

ARMY AIR ROUTE TO CANAL ZONE

Weeks Calls Defense Essential—
Plans to Fly There Under Their Own Power

Washington, March 28.—Plans for early establishment of an air route to the Panama Canal Zone as a measure of national defense are being made by the War Department, Secretary Weeks announced yesterday. When landing places have been surveyed and selected, he said, army planes will be sent to the zone under their own power.

"I regard the Canal Zone and Hawaii as the two most important posts the army has," Mr. Weeks said. The secretary said he had repeatedly told congressional committees that he would not be responsible for any reduction in the garrisons of these posts as was proposed by the House Appropriations Committee as an economy measure in framing the army appropriation bill.

The war secretary indicated that in the event of any threatened attack on the Canal Zone it would be regarded as vitally necessary to increase immediately the air forces attached to the defenses. It would be necessary, he said, to send planes under their own power in order to get them quickly to the scene, and the air route will be laid out with that purpose in mind.

Loss of the army dirigible Roma has prevented experiments with that type of craft as an airplane carrier, he added, which appeared to him to be probably most promising military use of lighter-than-air craft of great size. The plan for dispatching planes under their own power has been worked out since the loss of the Roma.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From Our Special Correspondent.)
Washington, March 28.—One of Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes' men, operating in a little North Carolina mountain town, has forwarded to the Washington office the following appearing, as a label on some of the corn liquor being distributed throughout the State:

"Will make a tadpole whip a whale!" Pure Korn Likker. Bottled in barn; made in the mountains of Western North Carolina, by an old-time blockader that don't give a for law or prohibition. Sold by all the first-class 'bootleggers' of N. C. for five bucks per pint, and worth every cent of it; strong enough to make you drunk as the devil in ten minutes and mean enough to make a baby bullfrog spit in the face of a whale. Shake well and get ready to have a fit before taking a drink."

Director General Dawes, head of the budget, will submit to the President within a week or ten days a detailed statement of the financial condition of the Government, showing that despite the drastic economies imposed on Government expenditures the financial condition of the treasury is far from satisfactory at this time, and will be less satisfactory on July 1 and thereafter.

Up to March 21, the report will show, the Government had spent an average of $10,392,510.30 a day for the 264 days of the fiscal year that ends June 30. This expense is well within the expenses calculated by General Dawes on Dec. 1 last year after the economy program had started to work, and is much less than the expenses that were estimated for the fiscal year by former Secretary Houston and Secretary Mellon prior to the time the budget bureau started operations.

Nevertheless, the Dawes report will show that there will be a deficit this year of something like $100,000,000, which must be taken up by the issuance of short time securities to be added to those now outstanding. In addition, the report will show that the Government will face a deficit for next year of an additional $187,000,000, exclusive of the bonus, which, it is estimated, would cost in the neighborhood of $100,000,000 for the first year.

Attention of the Anti-Saloon League and of the national prohibition commissioner has recently been called to the fact that while the Government is spending $10,000,000 a year to enforce prohibition, one bureau of Uncle Sam is still advocating the use of various liquors.

This bureau, strange as it may seem, is the Bureau of Fisheries, which, in its enthusiasm to promote the cause of consumption of sea food, puts out a cook book giving recipes for oysters, lobsters, fish, etc. Its "Economic Circular No. 18, Revised," contains two recipes that call for the use of liquor, it has been ascertained.

One is recipe No. 13, which tells how to make fried oysters, which require the insertion of two tablespoons of brandy. Just where the brandy is to be obtained, the recipe does not say.

Another is recipe No. 14, which tells how to make oysters à la Newburg. This requires two tablespoons of sherry, although in this case, as in the other, no indication is given as to the whereabouts of the sherry. These recipes, the cook book says, will make highly palatable and nutritious dishes, and little doubt of the fact is expressed by connoisseurs of seafood.

In fact, if the Bureau of Fisheries is able to sell some restaurant manager how to make sherry oysters and oysters à la Newburg according to this receipt without bringing forth a shower of prohibition agents, the opening of the next oyster season probably will find this restaurant keeper unable to supply seats for the crowd that would be sure to swarm about and inside his doors.

Public hearings on the impending strike of coal miners will be started in the House Thursday, two days before the strike order becomes effective. Representatives of the miners, of the operators and of the Department of Labor will be invited to appear at the hearings, but none of them will be summoned.

The purpose of the hearings is to give the public a chance to learn of the causes that lead up to the strike. The House Committee on Labor has no authority, other than its general authority to hold hearings, to compel the attendance of witnesses, and there is no effort to make it appear that the hearings have been ordered by the House under a resolution passed by that body.

HARD COAL STRIKE

Operators Are Prepared for Long Siege—Farrington to Meet Employers Tomorrow

Indianapolis, March 28.—With plans complete for the nation-wide coal strike, union leaders here yesterday awaited developments in their program for a complete tie-up of the country's coal industry through their call to 200,000 nonunion miners to join the 500,000 union workers in the suspension of work next Friday midnight.

No action, however, was contemplated to be taken from the union's international headquarters here yesterday, but district union officials bordering the nonunion fields were expected to make formal calls for action on the part of nonunion workers.

The nature of the activities among the nonunion workers has been left to the discretion of the district leaders, but within each field, it is understood, the union had many organizers, who had been enrolled some time ago as nonunion employees.

Interest in the program of striking the nonunion fields centered largely in Pennsylvania, where half of the country's nonunion men are employed.

West Virginia, too, was a center of attention, for many stubborn battles have been fought there with the operators. Other States with non-union workers whom the union hoped to draw into the strike were Alabama, Kentucky, Tennessee, Colorado and Maryland.

Union men here held out no hope that the walkout in the anthracite districts would be averted. On the contrary, they expected the negotiations would continue some time after April 1 and that the hard coal fields would be tied up pending the settlement.

For the soft coal fields no settlement was in sight for any field, although both Northern West Virginia and Illinois union officials were to hold wage negotiations with operators.

Operators declared that they were ready for a long cessation of work, but some predicted that miners in some localities would be ready to make separate wage agreements in 30 to 60 days. District union officials, however, asserted that the men would stand solidly in declaring that their unity would in time force the operators to begin wage negotiations on the basis of an interstate contract.

Program for Public Session Announced—Delegates Will Arrive Tomorrow and Thursday

The public meeting of the State Teachers' Convention of District II will be held in the M. E. Church South, on Thursday evening, March 29, at 8 o'clock. The general public is invited to attend.

The program for this open meeting will be especially good. Mayor James M. Duncan will deliver the address of welcome to the delegates. His address will be responded to by Dr. Fletcher Kemp, superintendent of the Arlington County Schools. State Superintendent of Public Instruction Harris Hart will take as his subject for this occasion, "The Next Step in Virginia Education." An inspirational address will be made by Dr. S. B. Mitchell, of Richmond College.

The church has been secured because of its central location and of its size. It will easily accommodate several hundred and it is expected that a large number will be present. The full program will be published in the Gazette tomorrow. It is expected that the delegates will begin to arrive here tomorrow afternoon. The schools will close Thursday and Friday so that teachers may attend the sessions of the convention.

SENATOR ADDS AGREEMENTS TO PACIFIC PACT

Japan's Homeland is Excluded and Domestic Issues Are Barred

OTHERS ARE LOST

Senator Lodge Will Open The Debate
On The Naval Treaty Today

Washington, March 28.—The Senate finally untangled its parliamentary difficulties over the four-power treaty supplements yesterday by joining the two supplementary agreements together and then ratifying them both by unanimous vote.

One of the supplements, itself in the form of a treaty, defines the geographical scope of the four-power pact so as not to include the Japanese homeland. The other, attached to the first by today's action in the form of a "reservation," stipulates that issues which are purely of a domestic character cannot be brought before the four-power "conferences."

The vote on the double-barreled ratification resolution was 73 to 0, opponents of the four-power plan joining in giving approval to the supplements because they interpreted the two agreements as limiting and curtailing the operation of the principal treaty.

Several attempts to attach other reservations which had failed when the four-power treaty itself was under consideration were defeated by the usual pro-treaty and anti-treaty line-up.

As soon as the vote was completed, Senator Lodge called up the naval limitation treaty, establishing a five-five-three capital ship ratio for the United States, Great Britain and Japan. Debate on it is to begin tomorrow and the Administration managers expect to see it ratified by an almost unanimous vote by the end of the week.

The plan of combining action on the two four-power treaty supplements was proposed by Senator Lodge after he had decided it was unnecessary to present two separate ratification resolutions. The treaty opponents, holding that the domestic questions supplement really was a part of the four-power pact, protested that the method finally settled upon by the Republican leader was but a "weak and unsatisfactory" way to solve the parliamentary problem confronting the Senate, but Mr. Lodge and other Republicans insisted it would be entirely effective.

By Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, senior Democratic member of the Foreign Relations Committee, it was declared that the Senate's action in giving belated approval to the supplement in its ratification of the event of domestic questions supplement as a "reservation" to the geographical supplement, however, was by a vote voice vote.

WILL ACT ON WHITE WAY PLAN

Favorable Report on Proposition Will Be Made at City Council Tonight

Expected Measure Will Be Adopted Without Any Hitch—If It Is Done Work Soon Will Be Started

Indications are that the proposition providing for a white way on King street between Fairfax and Patrick streets, a distance of seven squares, will be adopted tonight by both branches of the city council. It is understood that there are sufficient votes in both the common council and board of aldermen to overcome the opposition that may develop. A favorable report on both ordinances providing for the white way will be submitted by the joint committee on finance, lights and streets. It is stated that the measure can be adopted by both branches tonight. In the event favorable action is taken the ordinance will be signed by the mayor at once and within a short time the work of construction will be begun.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held Friday night at 8 o'clock in the rooms of that organization. At this meeting the annual reports of officers will be submitted. Former directors will be elected. The reports will contain a review of the work accomplished during the past year and of the matters pending for the coming year. There will be a smoker at this meeting.

IN CONGRESS YESTERDAY

HOUSE

Met at noon and adjourned at 5:35
p. m., until noon today.

After more than three hours of heated debate, by a vote of three to one, the $27,635,260 item in the army bill for rivers and harbors improvements was increased to $42,815,661.

Majority Leader Mondell, opposing the increase, which was put through under the leadership of Chairman Dempsey, of the rivers and harbors committee, characterized it as the "first assault on the budget system" and as a "raid on the Treasury."

Final vote on the army bill was postponed, but is expected to be taken today.

Appropriations totaling $17,079,121, for the Department of Justice, including the judiciary, and $9,448,736 for the State Department for the next fiscal year were recommended in the appropriation bill reported.

Before the appropriations committee Wayne Wheeler, general counsel of the Antislavery league, stated under persistent questioning that his organization had protested the appointment of "half a dozen or more" Federal judges.

Wheeler denied that the appointing power under the Federal government submitted to the league "for its approval or disapproval any list of candidates for appointment in the prohibition enforcement service."

He admitted that "we present our protests to them," and then when asked how, if no list was presented, the league learned the names of candidates said the prominent candidates were mentioned in the news papers in advance.

SENATE

Met at noon and recessed at 6 p. m., until today at noon.

Ratified the supplemental four-power Pacific treaty defining the application of the term "insular possessions and insular dominions" by a vote of 73 to 0.

By a vote of 53 to 20 rejected an amendment designed to exclude the island of Sakhalin from the scope of the treaty.

Adopted without a roll call, as a reservation proposed by Senator Lodge, the original declaration signed by the arms conference delegates when they approved the four-power pact excluding "domestic questions" from the scope of the treaty.

The five-power treaty for limitation of naval armament was taken up and made the unfinished business.

Agreed to the partial conference report on the Interior Department appropriations bill and further insisted on Senate amendments in dispute.

William Phillips, of Massachusetts, present Minister to the Netherlands, was nominated to be Under Secretary of State and Leland Harrison, now attached to the State Department, was nominated to be Assistant Secretary.

Genevieve W. of Cleveland, Ohio, to be appraiser of merchandise at that port, also a long list of postmasters.

Announcement was made of executive approval of the bill restoring the retirement privilege to government employees, some 80,000 in number, from whom it was taken by a recent opinion of the Attorney General.

SAYS WEINBERG

IS DERANGED

Insanity Expert Testifies for Man
Who Impersonated Officer

New York, March 28.—Stephen Weinberg, charged with impersonating an officer in the United States Navy, is a victim of "grandiose ideas" and has "undue elation," according to the testimony of Dr. John R. Ross, formerly medical superintendent at Dannemora Hospital for the Criminal Insane, at Weinberg's trial today.

Weinberg once acted as private secretary to Dr. Adolf Lorenz, Viennese physician, and was engaged in a similar capacity to Princess Fatima.

Dr. Ross said Weinberg was admitted to Dannemora October 3, 1917, and was discharged April 9, 1919. He was suffering from depressive insanity, he declared.

"He wanted to help me run the whole institution," he added. "It was a case of exaggerated ego."

INCREASE ARMY MEASURE BY 15 MILLIONS

Democrats and Republicans
Join in Rivers and Harbors Increase

LEADERS ARE ROUTED

Cut Which Was Made in Military Forces is Neutralized by This Latest Vote

Washington, March 28.—The Republican leadership of the House was routed today when a coalition of Democratic and Republican members increased by more than 50 per cent the amount carried in the army appropriation bill for river and harbor work.

Not only was the appropriations subcommittee overridden, but the plea of Representative Frank W. Mondell, the Republican floor leader, that the House support the committee, fell on deaf ears.

The action of the House increased from $27,635,260 to $42,815,661 the appropriation for continuation of existing rivers and harbors work. The vote was 158 to 54. Taken in committee of the whole, where they was no roll call, House insurgents in voting this larger sum followed substantially the recommendations of the board of army engineers whose estimates had been mercilessly cut by the Appropriations Committee.

Aside from the cries of "pork barrel" and claims that certain members who are willing to vote to reduce appropriations for the army and navy, vote just the other way on a rivers and harbors bill affecting their local interests, the action in the House today was mainly significant in that it again illustrates the state of leadership in the body. Furthermore, it accentuates the jealousy between committees which has been apparent for some days.

The fight for a larger rivers and harbors budget was led by Chairman Dempsey, of the Rivers and Harbors Committee, from which committee appropriations powers recently were taken—assisted by Representative James R. Mann, of Illinois, who led the Republicans when they were in the minority, but who was noosed out of the majority leadership by Mr. Mondell.

The Appropriations Committee's battle to sustain its own bill was furthered by Mr. Mondell Representative Anthony, of Kansas, in direct charge of the army budget, and Representative Stafford of Wisconsin. When the vote came, however, it was 3 to 1 against the committee.

On the other hand, the committee only a few days ago won a somewhat similar fight over the size of the army, defeating a coalition of "bigger army" Republicans and Democrats. Today was the first time the outsiders from whom it was taken by a recent opinion of the Attorney General.

Members of the Rivers and Harbors Committee have been restive for some days over the estimates for river and harbor work. Having yielded its appropriating powers, however, that committee could only await its time on the floor of the House and attempt to override the more powerful rival committee.

TIME FOR KEYNOTE BANQUET!

The Republican administration at Washington has advanced far enough in the execution of its campaign agenda to establish a record either of success or failure, and to warrant a safe augury as to its future accomplishments. That the people of the country at large are profoundly dissatisfied with its record there is no gainsaying. The recent election in Maine affords but hollow comfort to the Republicans. On the other hand, an analysis of its returns can but yield solid encouragement to those of the opposition.

The domestic problems of the United States were never more serious or more numerous than at present. While the problems in Europe and the Pacific demand statesmanship of the very highest order.

The domination of the Republican Party has unquestionably passed into the hands of the reactionaries.
Instead of profiting by the errors of the past they have endeavored to revive the worn-out theories and practices of a bygone age and again establish a government whereby the many shall be exploited for the benefit of the few.

The causes for discontent
among the people are deep and far-reaching. The Republican Party is not only without leadership today, but it is without even an intelligent understanding of the economic and social symptoms of disorder that appear on the surface. It is inevitable, as a consequence, that it should be without remedy or antidote for the underlying disease itself.

It is high time, therefore, that the Democrats of the country got together and sounded the keynote of a constructive program, and apprise the people again
of those time-honored precepts and principles which are peculiarly its own.
It is time that in the midst of the present nation-wide chaos a voice be heard that shall rally once more to the standard of high ideals and sound policies a widely-scattered and disordered electorate.

The time is imperative in its demand, and no more fitting place could be chosen than the nation's capital.
We suggest, in all seriousness of purpose, therefore, that a banquet be given in the near future, commensurate with the importance of the occasion, and that the leaders of the Party be invited to sound an unmistakable keynote as to where the Democracy stands today, and outline its policy for the days to come.

Personally, we would suggest that Woodrow Wilson, our revered leader in an heroic past, be invited to speak; that out of his wisdom, his judgment, and his prescience, there may be formulated an organic declaration of rights and duties that shall stir the whole country to a deep sense of its obligations; both in the troubled times of the present and the still graver uncertainties of the future. Or failing Mr. Wilson, we would suggest Bainbridge Colby as one thoroughly imbued with those unflinching principles which must ever guide and dominate the great masses of the Democratic Party.

Punitive Overtime— Was It Forced Upon The Railroads?

Representatives of railroads, testifying before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce, the Interstate Commerce Commission and the United States Railroad Labor Board, have stated that punitive overtime was forced upon the railroads during Federal control.

John G. Walber, Secretary of the Bureau of Information of the Eastern Railroads, put forward by the Association of Railroad Executives to testify as to the operation and results of the large policy of the Railroad Administration had imposed great and unnecessary burdens upon the railroads, particularly the Pennsylvania and the Philadelphia and Reading.

On page 537 of the Senate Hearings he is quoted as having stated that punitive overtime rates were established on these roads against the wishes of their officials.

The facts, as they developed by William Gibbs McAdoo, former director general of railroads during the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce (February 2, 1922) directly contradict this statement. They are:

(1) When the railroads were taken over by the government a great majority of the first-class railroads were making punitive overtime payments to their employees.

(2) The Railroad Administration, through its Railroad Wage Commission, made an extended investigation of punitive overtime, to determine the advisability of extending it to all carriers under Federal control.

(3) While this investigation was being made, President Rea, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, earnestly urged the Railroad Administration to establish punitive overtime on that system.

(4) President Rea urged in support of his demand for the establishment of punitive overtime that it was in force on practically all railroads in the great Eastern region with the Reading and his own road.

(5) That before the investigation was completed, and without authority from the Railroad Administration (which had refused Mr. Rea's request), Regional Director A. H. Smith President of the New York Central and one of the chief spokesmen for the railroad interests, gave permission to Mr. Rea to establish punitive overtime on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Mr. McAdoo replying directly to Mr. Walber's testimony (referred to above), said:

Mr. Walber failed to tell the Committee that time and a half for overtime was granted by Regional Director Smith (President of the New York Central before and since the termination of Federal control), without authority from the Railroad Administration, at the request of President Rea and upon the recommendation of Mr. Walber himself.

Mr. McAdoo presented to the Committee correspondence bearing upon this subject.

On March 28, 1918, Mr. Rea wrote to Regional Director Smith:

"We understand that the Central Railroad of New Jersey has recently adopted time and one-half time for overtime in their shops on account of a recent arbitration award, so that in this immediate territory it would appear that the Philadelphia and Reading and ourselves are about the only roads which do not pay the additional rate for overtime in shops.
This being a General Condition, and in the nature of a wage agreement, before conceding their request, we bring it to your attention for your advice, which we would be very glad to receive."

On April 8, 1918, Regional Director
Smith replied to Mr. McRea as fol-ley's time waitin' t' be fined

Under date of April 11, Mr. Rea again wrote Mr. Smith, pressing his previous request for authority to pay punitive overtime. He said:

"May I ask you kindly to reply to my letter of March 28, regarding request of committees representing shop employees at the different points on the basis of time and one-half time for all overtime work? This is a very pressing matter and we would like to be advised as soon as possible."

Mr. McAdoo testifies that after receiving the second letter from Mr.
Rea, Director Smith telephoned Director Gray (of the Division of Operations and Maintenance of the Railroad Administration) and asked for authority to adopt overtime payment, "but did not receive it."

"Despite this failure to get authority from Director of Operations Gray," said Mr. McAdoo, "Regional Director Smith, on April 16, 1918, according to the request of Mr. Rea to put in a schedule of time and a half time for overtime work."

Mr. Smith's letter of authorization to Mr. Rea is dated April 16, and is as follows:

Calomel salivation is horrible. It swells the tongue, loosens the teeth and starts rheumatism. There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodtute for calomel. It is a pleasant vegetable liquid which will start your doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Calomel is a dangerous drug, besides it may make you feel sick and wake up feeling great. No salts nectory, excepting P. & R. for overtime work, it will be satisfactory for you to put this basis of pay into effect in the shops on your line."

This testimony completely disproves the charge of railroad officials that punitive overtime was forced upon the railroads and thereby added to their cost operation.

The facts are, as testified to by Mr. Rea, of the Pennsylvania, that with the exception of his road and the Philadelphia and Reading, the practice of paying punitive overtime rates was in effect on practically every road in the Eastern district.

It is further proven that the Pennsylvania Railroad was not forced to pay overtime rates, but that its managers repeatedly sought permission to do so.

When this permission was not secured from the Railroad Administration, Regional Director Smith, one of the country's leading railroad officials and a severe critic of Federal control, on his own authority, and in response to the earnest appeals of Mr. Rea, granted authority to the Pennsylvania Railroad to put the plan into effect.

National Council Episcopal Church

Nashville, Tenn. (Special)—Dr. J.
J. Stowe, secretary of the stewardship and teaching department of the Missionary Centenary movement of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, has just returned to Nashville headquarters after a round of visits through Mississippi, Georgia and absent sections of Southern Methodist territory in the interest of "World Sunday" which brought to a climax on March 26 the church-wide collections campaign in behalf of overdue subscriptions to the world program of Methodist missions.

Dr. Stowe announced that in the twelve or more places visited by him he conferred with pastors, presiding elders and laymen, held district group meeting and congregational gatherings, and that everywhere he encountered a spirit of optimism and was assured of the hearty support of all the agencies of the church in bringing the collection of overdue centen-nary money to a successful consummation. Dr. Stowe stated that the present movement was not an effort to secure new money but to meet the shortage in collections, due to the fact that the third annual payment on the entire centenary amount is now due and lacks twenty per cent of realization. Dr. Stowe expressed the he-lief that when the centenary forces

retired from the field the week following "World Sunday" a sufficient amount would have been collected on unpaid subscriptions to assure the final success of the movement and the uninterrupted progress of the missionary program made possible by the subscription of $35,000,000 for world missions.

"MOLLY O"

Mabel Normand and Mack Sennett at Their Best at Richmond For Three Days

"Molly O," the Mack Sennett "greater than Mickey," production will begin a three day run at the Richmond Theatre tomorrow. Mabel Normand, the star in "Mickey," will play in the title role.

This picture comes to Alexandria well recommended from long runs in larger cities. It is a picture that will appeal to any audience, however critical. It ranges between the sublime and the ridiculous. Sometimes it is comic, sometimes pathetic. It is magnificent, having required the services of more than two thousand actors and actresses in its making. It is also a thriller. Mack Sennett appears at his best and displays his creative genius and is ably supported by a great cast.

Fear Father's Enemies Murdered Missing Girl

Woodbury, N. J., March 27.—A possibility that 1-year-old Ida Kramer, believed to have been kidnapped from her home last Saturday, may have been murdered by enemies of her father, Isadore Kramer, was under investigation tonight at the office of Sheriff Clark, of Gloucester County. Word was received that three men known to have been the father's enemies were seen digging near the mouth of Woodbury Creek early today. As a result, fresh posses of police, deputies and farmers were sent to scour the country surrounding the mouth of the creek and the Delaware River shore.

VIRGINIA NEWS PARAGRAPHED

Richmond—Beginning April 1, under an act of the General Assembly, amending the charter of the city of Richmond, the Bureau of Street Cleaning will be taken over by the Department of Public Works. Heretofore, this bureau has operated under the supervision of the Director of Public Welfare. It was found by the advisory board, however, that better results might be obtained by a sort of co-operation between the street cleaning and the street hand of the Department of Works, whereby equalization of duties may be reached.

Norfolk—On charges of forging and cashing twelve checks, W. H. Brazil, aged 19, was arrested at noon today by Detectives G. I. Williams and John Anderson at the National Bank of Commerce. At the time of his arrest he was attempting to cash a check, alleged to be the thirteenth forged. The young man confessed at police headquarters, it is said, to have forged the checks to pay debts that had grown upon him during illness and unemployment. The checks purported to have been drawn by W. K. Lewis, grocer, payable to J. H. Harris, cashing the checks Brazil signed Harris' name and added his own as endorsement, it is alleged.

Norfolk—Public utilities and property installed and built in Craddock by the government, will be turned over to that community if it is incorporated as a town, it is almost certain. Such action will be recommended to Congress by both the U. S. Housing Corporation and the Department of Labor and favored action by Congress is expected.

Charlottesville—Upholding the negative of the question, "Resolved, That Congress Should Enact Legislation Providing for Sale of Tax," Virginia debating team won from West Virginia's representatives here last night by a vote of 2 to 1. J. H. Lavenstein, of Petersburg; Irving E. Carlyle, of Wake Forest, N. C., and L. G. G. of Roanoke, composed the winning team. West Virginia's representatives were Worth K. Rice, of Berkeley Springs; Homer L. Deem, of Parkersburg, W. Va., and R. Morley Burton, of Charleston.

Fredericksburg—An airplane, piloted by Captain George Hamilton, U. S. M. C., took a 50-foot drop in Chappawamie Swamp near Quantico, while returning to the landing field at the Marine Aviation Field at Reid. Engine trouble caused the plane to crash into the swamp near the new bridge connecting the roadway between the Marine Field and the Quantico Barracks. The machine was demolished by the fall, but Captain Hamilton and his mechanic escaped with minor bruises.

Winchester—The original and amended cedar rust law is constitutional, according to Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals, which has refused a writ of error in cases from Shenandoah County, according to a telegram from the clerk of the court at Staunton.

Two years ago the court upheld validity of the act, which permitted destruction of red cedars within a mile of a commercial apple orchard, and since then, it has been amended so as to make the limit two miles. The State entomologist recently sought to have a large number of cedars destroyed in Shenandoah County, and the case was vigorously contested, the entomologist winning in the lower court. An appeal was noted, and the Supreme Court has turned it down. Thirty men now are cutting down a large cedar area in Shenandoah County. The law provides that fruit growers mostly concerned shall pay the damages, if any are awarded by the court.

Roanoke—The $210,000 new market building was opened here Thursday morning for the use of the public. The building was started last fall. Another section of the building will be built this summer, and with the addition, the building will be inadequate for the city, it was stated.

The three men are under surveillance, and one has been questioned by police. He denied all knowledge of the girl's whereabouts.

Birrell, in which he said, among other things, that he was not in favor of the terms of the original resolution providing for nominations. He asserted that it might mean it would not express the wishes of all of those present. He, however, said that he subscribed to the council-manager plan form of city government. He added that he did not think 400 or 500 people should presume to nominate for 20,000 people.

Leo P. Harlow, in a short address, declared that he thought things in the past were cursed by politics. Past actions, he asserted, have generally

All Trained up—Ready for Season's First Fray

Giants in action.

Major league teams now are in "trained up" and ready for the season's first fray. The top picture shows the champion New York Giants in action on their last day at the San Antonio, Texas, training camp. Below you see three of the mainstays of the Chicago Cubs, who trained at Catalina Island. With his crew now completely in shape, Manager Bill Killifer is laying out his plans to Grover Alexander and "Speed" Martin. Some team he has this season, Killifer says.

been governed by how many votes it can get regardless of consequences. Referring to the city, Mr. Harlow said Alexander might well be called "dead and delighted." For the past quarter of a century, he said little had been done for the rebuilding of the city. Mr. Harlow declared that the plan seemed would not be a success if they secured men who made politics a business. He thought a mistake had been made in restricting the number of nominees to fifteen. He said he did not favor the nominations for council being restricted to the fifteen nominated.

Chester A. Gwinn agreed with Mr. Harlow and thought the nominating committee of fifteen entirely too small. He expressed himself as favoring the nominations for council going outside of the committee.

The resolution providing that the nominating committee could nominate others than themselves was adopted by a rising vote. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

Mr. Birrell states that he was not a candidate and asked that his name be withdrawn.

The promoters of the movement expressed themselves as well pleased with the record attendance at the first public meeting of the organization.

The task of counting the ballots cast was a big one. Nine persons were named by the chair to collect the ballots, about 15 minutes being given to all to write down the names of their 15 favorite candidates. Many, however, voted for only a few of the nominees.

The chairman at 9 o'clock announced the names of 36 persons, men and women, who check up the returns. The election officials repaired to the lodge room of the Elks and they realized when they started that they had a big job on hand. However, everybody pitched in, and the election officials were divided off into four each, making nine squads, and it was, as stated above, shortly after 11 o'clock when the final computation was completed.

When that election officials returned from the upper hall with the votes there were less than 150 persons remaining in the big auditorium.

Volstead's Opponent Quits

Minneapolis, March 27.—Theodore Christanson, of Dawson, today announced his withdrawal from the Republican congressional race in the Seventh District, in opposition to Congressman J. J. Volstead. Mr. Christanson's action was accepted by Republican leaders as an assurance that Congressman Volstead, father of the prohibition enforcement act, would be endorsed by the district convention at Willmar next Thursday.

GIRL HAD PAINFUL TIMES Mothers—Read This Letter and Statement Which Follows

Portland, Indiana.—"I was troubled with irregularity and constipation and would often have to lie down because of pains. One Sunday my aunt was visiting us and she said her girls took Lydia E. STELLA NEWTON, R. R. 8, Portland, Indiana.

Mothers—You should carefully guard your daughter's health. Advise her of the danger which comes from standing around with cold or wet feet, from lifting heavy articles, or overworking. Do not let her overstudy.

If she complains of headache, pains in back or lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, give her careful attention. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for your daughter to take, as it is especially adapted to relieve just such symptoms. Remember it contains nothing that can injure and can be taken in safety.

Kills 3 Children and Self

Greenwich, Conn., March 27.—Mrs. Henry Barker, whose body was found in her home late last night, killed her three small children by cutting their throats before bringing about her own death by the same means, the police stated today. The children's ages ranged from 18 months to 5 years.

The first intimation of the tragedy was the discovery by a passer-by of an insurance policy on the sidewalk in front of the Barker home, upon which was written a notice, "I am going to kill myself and the children."

The policy was taken to police headquarters and the officers who were dispatched to the house found the bodies.

The dove's place in religious emblems is the outgrowth of its use by artists who have used it to typify purity. The earlier painters pictured the "Madonna and Child" with doves fluttering about them.

JOBLESS PARADE IS FAILURE

Only 27 of Promised Host of 2,000 Move on City Hall, Surrounded By Police

New York, March 28.—Spring fever yesterday made unnecessary elaborate precautions taken by the police to guard against possible disorder in a double-barreled parade of unemployed scheduled to march upon City Hall with demands for jobs.

There was no disorder and there was scarcely any parade, unless you excepted the host of bluecoats who marched into City Hall Park like a socked edition of the annual police procession.

One branch of the parade—seven weak—set forth from South street. The second branch—with nine in line—eased away from Seventh street and Third avenue. They joined forces in Chinatown and, alternately picking up recruits and dropping them, wound up in front of City Hall with a total of 27. Police permits which their leaders carried stated that 2,000 might take the stroll. Guarding the surviving 27 were:

Fifty police afoot, a dozen on horse, six Department of Justice agents, several members of the bomb squad and divers police inspectors, captains and lieutenants. Surrounding and threatening to engulf the parade were hundreds of workers out for lunch.

Dye Faded Wrap Skirt, Dress in Diamond Dyes

At City Hall Park there came a pause, while a committee of six was appointed to wait on Acting Mayor Hulbert. On the park benches sat more unemployed. Whether it was the balmy aspidochelone breeze that fanned them or a distrust in the efficacy of an appeal for work to the municipal authorities they could not be induced to join the parading 27, so that many banners inscribed "Harding's unemployment conference was a fake," "trade with Russia means work for us," and the like were never raised.

The committee selected, another pause following while one man obviously intoxicated, was taken from the ranks of the unemployed, leaving 26.

Mr. Hulbert took the names and addresses of those who called on him. But that did not strike the committee as sufficient. There was some talk of building apartments, declaring a moratorium on rent paying and having the United States force the Allies to pay their debts. Then the protest ended.

34 vs. 66

Swift's Premium Ham and Swift's Premium Bacon are produced from only the best hogs. Many of the animals we buy do not furnish meat of Premium quality.

Since these are the choice cuts from the best hogs, cured and smoked in the best way, with scientific care and precision, they are naturally in great demand; but these cuts, with the loin from which pork chops come, represent only about 34 per cent of the live animal.

The remaining 66 per cent consists of the cheaper cuts, such as spare ribs, shoulders, trimmings, pigs' feet, lard, etc., and shrinkage in dressing and curing. Shrinkage is equal to one pound in each five, and has no value whatever.

That is why the prices of "Premium" Ham and Bacon and pork loins are higher than the price of the live animal.

Everybody wants them—and yet they are only about one-third of the entire weight. "Premium" Bacon alone is only about 8 per cent.

The great demand for the choicer cuts, and the smaller demand for the cheaper cuts, constitute the reason for the comparatively higher price of the one-third, and the lower price of the other two-thirds. (Some of the lower priced cuts sell at less than the per-pound price of the live animal.)

It is only by utilizing all possible by-products and exercising the utmost skill and efficiency that we are able to average a profit of a fraction of a cent a pound on all our business.

N. B. Some very delicious dishes can be prepared from the cheaper cuts.

NOTICE

As the fishing season is commencing, the public are informed that the law, prohibiting the bringing of fish to the public pumps to clean, or the throwing of the fish in the street, be strictly enforced against the offenders. And also against all persons landing or cleaning fish on any of the wharves or docks, except the wharf and dock, where the fish market is kept. The constables in their respective wards will therefore be very careful to see the above notice is attended to—that every disagreeable nuisance may be prevented which might arise therefrom, to the injury of the health and inconvenience of the town.

JOHN T. BROOKS,
Superintendent of Police.National Council
Episcopal Church

One way to reform the theatre is to make it an adjunct of the Church is the view of Margaret Swain Pratt, who is arranging the production of a religious play, with the assistance of well known professional people, to be produced in Portland, Oregon, next October in connection with the General Convention of the Episcopal Church. Mrs. Pratt disclaims any desire to become involved in the pending controversy over plays pleasant and unpleasant; but she suggests that probably those who would reform the theatre are going the wrong way about it in demanding an almost instantaneous change in what necessarily involves a process of education.

"Of course," says Mrs. Pratt, "it is absolutely true that no theatrical production would last a week if the public didn't support it. Whatever else may be said about them, theatrical managers are not fools, and they do not produce plays for their health. The kind of play they produce is largely governed by the tastes of the people who support them. Reforming the theatre, therefore, is largely a matter of educating the people to what is best in dramatic art, and that takes time. Here, I think Dr. Stratton and others will agree with me, is where the Churches may make their influence felt."

"By the Episcopal Church the theatre and play-acting are recognized as great potential agents for clarifying and sublimating modern thought. We do not join in any hue and cry against the theatre as an institution, nor against actors and actresses as a class. The theatre and the temple site, the drama and the religious ritual were one and the same to the Greeks. In fact, the roots of the dramatic art reach down into religious soil; it was in the Church that the dramatic production had its beginning."

"According to a well known critic of the drama our American Theatre of Tomorrow will house religious drama. This may seem like an extreme view, and this authority himself does not use the word religious; but according to his description the drama of tomorrow will be essentially that. It will be a more colorful, significant and spiritual type of drama, implying a new relation of audience and play, where illusion is not so important as emotional intimacy, directness and clarity. Now the attainment of this ideal condition may be a long while in coming; but the question is, shall this new type of play, which already has a foothold on our stage, continue to be evolved entirely apart from the Church, or will the Church add to its own strength by helping to develop with intelligent interest this ancient means of spiritual revelation? It is obvious to those who are familiar with the present tendencies of the drama that the Church must either make an ally of the theatre, or eventually recognize the new theatre of truth, beauty and inspiration as a powerful rival."

"The essence of this new drama has long existed in the beautiful dramatic liturgies of the Church; but recently these liturgies have been supplemented by the new dramatic offices for the celebration of special occasions—Christmas and Easter especially. Plays have been used for missionary education, and hundreds of missionary plays and moralities have been given in the churches of the Churches. The activity along these lines has become so great that to influence its trend the Episcopal Church has organized a National Commission on Church Pageantry and Drama. And here is the point I would like to emphasize; pending the attainment of this ideal theatre; and, in fact to help it along, education can do much to bring about a gradual reform in the whole tone of the present day theatre. Please understand that I am not predicting or urging a wholly religious drama; but rather a drama which will deal wholesomely and helpfully with the pressing problems of civilization. In these Church productions which the Episcopal Commission is promoting, the children are especially encouraged to take part, to make their own costumes, properties and scenery, and to sing in the choruses. Thus we are going forward educating the rising generation of theatre-goers to what is clean and pure and most beautiful in dramatic production. Out of this activity if properly conducted, will emerge an intelligent generation of theatre-goers, demanding the best that the theatre can produce; and as I said, it is a matter of strict business policy with the managers to give the people who support them what they want."

DISINFECTION AT THE CONCLUSION OF ILLNESS

After the patient has recovered from a communicable disease, he and the attendant should, if the doctor thinks it necessary, disinfect themselves before they mingle with other people. The entire body and the hair should be washed with soap and water, the teeth brushed, the mouth rinsed, the throat gargled and the nose drenched and sprayed with an antiseptic solution. There should also be a complete change of clothing, or a change of undergarments and a thorough shaking and brushing of outer garments out-of-doors before they are put on again.

The exact time when it is safe for a person to come out of quarantine and resume ordinary life varies in different diseases. Moreover, opinion differs in regard to quarantine periods for the same disease, so that the re-

A SURE CURE

When a Widower Begins to Wonder Whether She Will Think He is Too Old For Her, He Ceases to Complain About His Lumbago

But the man who gets up in the morning all out of sorts, with lame back, stiff limbs, dull aching head, better look out for himself—maybe his kidneys are to blame. Swollen hands, ankles, feet are due to a dropsical condition, often caused by disordered kidneys. Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous waste matter, which settles in the ankles, feet and wrists, or under the eyes in bag like formations.

As a remedy for those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation, caused by Uric Acid as scalding urine, backache and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine or if Uric Acid in the blood has caused Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Gout, it is simply wonderful how Tonalil acts, the pain and stiffness rapidly disappear for Tonalil is many times more potent than Lithia and often eliminate Uric Acids as hot water melts sugar, and there is a reason why Tonalil produces such wonderful results, contains so many different Herbs, Roots and Barks to act upon the human system. Tonalil acts upon all of the digestive organs and cannot help but hit the source of your distress, and when you take Tonalil you know just what you are taking as the names of all ingredients are printed on the label.

Why do you continue to suffer day after day when you can gain relief, by taking nature's own remedy, the products of Mother soil, not a remedy from by-products, acids and chemicals. A trial will convince the most skeptical that Tonalil contains the elements your run-down system requires to build you up.

regulations of Boards of Health in different cities show wide variations. It is, of course, impossible to say at just what moment a patient, or even the majority of patients, will stop expelling germs. Quarantine periods are intended to protect the community as completely as possible without cause unnecessary hardship to individuals. In any given case, the local regulations should be strictly observed but release from quarantine is not a guarantee that the patient is not still discharging germs, and extreme care should still be taken to prevent the spread of saliva and other discharges. A room that has been occupied by a patient with a communicable disease should be thoroughly cleaned at the termination of the illness. Dishes, utensils, bed linen, etc., should be boiled. The floor, bedstead, and other furniture should be washed with hot water, soap and washing soda. The walls, windows, etc., should be wiped with a cloth wrung out of water, soap suds and soda. The mattress, unless badly soiled, should be scrubbed with the same solution and a stiff brush, and left out-of-doors for a day or two in the sunshine, or until dry. If badly soiled it is best to destroy the mattress unless the Board of Health has facilities for steam sterilization. Ordinary washing is generally all that is required for blankets, but if they are badly soiled they should be sterilized by steam or burned. The room should then be thoroughly sunned and aired for a day or two, with the windows wide open both day and night. Sunning and airing are among the important measures in disinfecting a room and should not be slighted. If there has been gross pollution, as when a careless consumptive persists in spitting on the floor and walls, it may be necessary to remove the old paint and paper and have the room done over. The room may safely be occupied after all these measures have been taken.

COLBERT—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear wife and mother, ALICE V. COLBERT, who departed this life one year ago, March 27, 1921. The Lord who gave has called you. To His will we all must bow. You are free from pain and suffering. Not a pain can reach you now. Time may heal an aching heart. Time may make the wound less sore. Theirs Is a "Common Sense" Marriage

There'll be few rifts on the sea of matrimony if man and wife enter into a "common sense" marriage, declare Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Auer, of Chicago. While "hubby" stays home and writes short stories, Mrs. Auer goes to a theatre with another man. Such a programme alternates between the two. They both do as they please. It's easy to get along that way both assert.

HOME OR HOSPITAL CARE

When home conditions render adequate care, and strict isolation of the patient impossible, hospital care should be seriously considered. No personal or sentimental objections should be allowed to influence the decision, if removing the patient to a hospital is necessary to safeguard his welfare or the welfare of the family. Hospital care should be considered especially in the case of patients with typhoid fever, because untrained persons can not safely care for persons so seriously ill. Since a patient with typhoid needs skilled care and since he greatly endangers other people, most authorities consider hospital care essential unless the patient can have the continuous services of a trained nurse and almost ideal home conditions. Many cases of typhoid, it is true, are successfully nursed at home in extremely adverse conditions by visiting nurses; yet in few kinds of sickness is continuous care by a graduate nurse more necessary to protect the community as well as safeguard the patient himself.

Members of the family in which there is a case of typhoid should be marnith esortwd of ar mod om ro immunized if the doctor advises it. This process, which is performed by teh doctor, in the majority of cases renders a person immune to typhoid fever for three or four years.

The question of home or institutional care for persons with tuberculosis must also be carefully considered. In some cases tuberculosis may be cared for at home with comparative safety, and in some other cases the risk is not very great. If the patient is intelligent, careful, and well supervised. But everyone should face the fact that all cases of tuberculosis of the lungs involve some risk to others in the family, and most cases involve great risk. The danger to children is greater than to adults. Most tuberculosis infections, it is now believed, are acquired in childhood. The bad result of an infection acquired in childhood may not show itself for years, since the germs may remain inactive until the person's resistance is lowered by some unfavorable condition.
